Case Study I

A Career at the Opera

John joined our first cohort as a fashion design graduate from NCAD in Dublin. He was looking for solid traditional tailoring and pattern construction skills.

He knew that adding this specialist expertise to his existing skill set would enable him to follow a more ambitious career path.

John made full use of this opportunity, and following his graduation, he accepted the offer of a tailoring position at Glyndebourne Festival Opera.

Tailoring for the Royal Household

Victoria joined our 2021/22 cohort with no formal previous experience, but love for meticulous hand craft, a clear idea of what she wanted and determination to achieve that goal.

Following her graduation in July 2022, Victoria signed with bespoke tailors Samuel Brothers, holders of a Royal Warrant and Tailors to King Charles III.

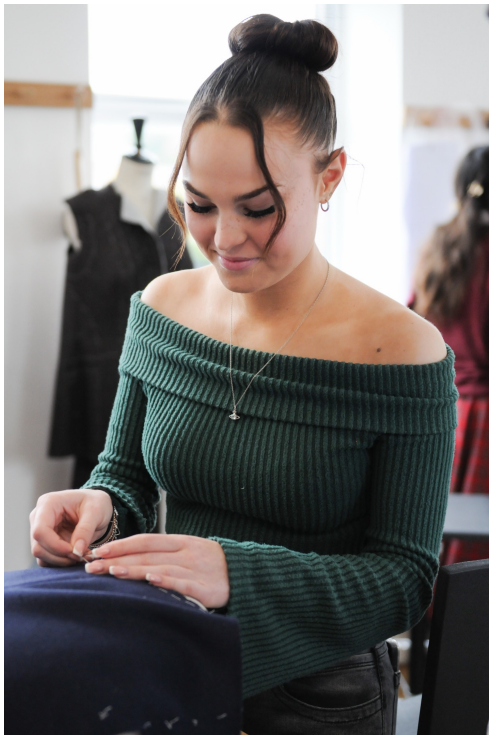

Victoria went on to win at the Oscars of the Tailoring World, the 2023 Golden Shears Awards!

Leading in Women's Tailoring

Lucy joined the Level 5 Diploma straight out of school, with an A Levels in Textiles.

Being drawn to the craft's combination of artistry and technical rigor, she impressed us all with a work ethic and resilience far beyond her years.

Having acquired cutting and tailoring expertise for both the male and female clients on the programme, Lucy was offered the position of head of women's wear only a short time after joining bespoke tailor Michael Frackowiak in Liverpool.

A Career in Rome

Eshyah joined our international program with only self-taught prior experience. Her goal was clear: to learn to master the heritage techniques that would enable her to work at a professional standard.

She learned to work across the cutting and tailoring briefs and took her Community Tailoring project on with characteristic aplomb, tailoring a three-piece suit for her father (!)

Half-way through the course, she took her first bespoke jacket on a Europeans tour, securing a position with renowned Master Tailor Gaetano Aloisio in Rome, Italy.
